Dr. Peggy Healy Stearns'

Stationery Studio

Media & Methods

This year's results represent releases of cream-of-the-crop educational resource materials recently released for K-12 schools. Judges make product selections based on: comprehensiveness, versatility for different learning abilities, ease of use, innovativeness, level of motivation, interest, strengths and weaknesses. Media & Methods Magazine applauds and acknowledges the commitment of these winning companies for their development of quality educational materials, resources and tools.

Stationery Studio was honored to be among the 2004 Media & Methods Magazine AWARDS PORTFOLIO winners in:

English & Language Arts

Stationery Studio Software that enables customizing and printing writing paper for stories, letters, reports, postcards and mini-books.
Overall Evaluation:
"This program inspires students to write by providing dozens of format options for their stationery."
